

Better Buildings Create Greener Communities™

Learn How Trane is Helping Create Greener Communities

Trane is the recognized industry leader in commercial HVAC for High Performance Buildings. We are a proud Platinum Sponsor of the Greenbuild International Conference and Expo and an active member of the United States Green Building Council.

We're also the national sponsor of LEED for Schools and, beginning this year, the national sponsor of LEED for Homes—the new green rating system for the residential sector.

Trust Trane for the right advice, the right tools, the right systems, and the right services to help you go green with your projects and achieve LEED certification. Be sure to stop by the Trane booth (#518) at Greenbuild 2007 to learn how Trane is helping advance green communities.

Can't make it to Greenbuild? Visit www.trane.com/greenbuild to learn about Trane green solutions for commercial buildings.
